

FOR WHEN I'm not HERE

A place to leave words that matter

how this WORKS

This piece is made up of a few simple sections.

Each one has a different purpose.

You don't need to complete them all.

You don't need to write in order.

Some pages include a gentle starter line.

You can use it, change it, or delete it entirely.

There's no right way to do this.

You're simply leaving words to be found later.

This can be used at any stage of life.

You don't need a reason to begin.

These are Very Important Notes from...

how this WORKS

This is your space

What you write here is private unless you choose to share it. There's no right way to use this notebook, take what feels useful, skip what doesn't, and come back whenever you need.

Download and save your copy

Download your notebook and save it somewhere you'll easily find again. You might like to keep one blank copy and a second copy for writing in.

Write directly into it

Click or tap into the spaces and start typing. Write a little or a lot. Skip questions, return to them later, or leave them unanswered, it's completely up to you.

Save as you go

Remember to save your PDF regularly so you don't lose anything you've written.

Mac: Command + S

Windows: Ctrl + S

Come back anytime

This notebook doesn't need to be completed in one sitting. Reopen your saved copy whenever you want to keep writing, revisit an answer, or notice what's changed.

One important note

When saving your working copy, avoid using "Print to PDF." This can flatten the file and make your notebook no longer editable.

THINGS i would want you TO KNOW

A place for the most important truths.

These pages aren't written to anyone in particular.

They're written in your voice, as if you were in the room.

You might write about things you hope are never misunderstood, or words you'd want remembered.

LETTERS i would want you TO HAVE

*You can start anywhere, and write to anyone.
Messages written to the people who matter to you.*

You can write to one person or many.
You can write one letter, or several.

These don't need to be perfect or complete.
They are simply words you'd like to leave behind,
or things you never quite got to say,
if timing or circumstance had allowed.

PRACTICAL things

Helpful notes, written in a human way.

This section is for the things you'd normally explain out loud.

It's not legal or official, just practical. This doesn't replace a will or formal documents. It sits alongside them.

You might include where things are kept, who knows what, or what doesn't need worrying about.

small WISHES

Gentle preferences, not demands.

This section is for the little things.

Music, places, objects, or details that feel like you.

Nothing here has to be followed.

They're just quiet wishes.

extra PAGES

Space to keep writing.

These pages are intentionally open.

They're here in case you want to add something later,
or write something that doesn't fit anywhere else.

No starter line. Just space.
